Course Description:
The aim of the course (recommended to visiting international students) is to discuss important phases of Hungarian history, significant aspects of Hungarian culture and to read works by outstanding figures of Hungarian literature. Beside the reading experience, students will be given the opportunity to visit museums: the Hungarian National Museum (the permanent exhibition on Hungarian history), the National Gallery ((the exhibition of 19th century Hungarian painters), and the Holocaust Memorial Center. Among the special programs film screenings and a Hungarian folk dance event will also be included. Evaluation is based on five short essays, a reading journal and class participation.
