

INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION (English) ERP-BAN 9324
TITLE OF THE COURSE IN HUNGARIAN : NEMZETKÖZI MIGRÁCIÓ (angol nyelven)
Responsible unit (institute/department): International Studies Dept.	Number of lessons per week/semester: Full-time: 24/semester	Credit value: 6		Prerequisites: -	Prerequisite for exam: -
Lecturer in charge of the subject: Katalin Dancsi PhD.	Type of course: elective	Recommended semester:	Semester in which the course is offered: Spring	Language of instruction: English	Type of evaluation: exam (colloquium)/ term mark/ basic exam/ comprehensive exam/report/ signature
Lecturer(s): Katalin Dancsi PhD					Method of evaluation: written/ oral/ oral and written
Description of professional content and purpose of the course:
The objective of the course is to introduce students to the main questions, debates, conceptualizations and trends of international migration. Students will acquire a grounded, theoretical and critical overview of the current debates related to international migration, with a focus on Europe and the latest policy developments. By the end of the course students will have a comprehensive view of the field.
Short outline, description of acquired knowledge, skills and competences:

- Khalid Koser 2016. International Migration: A Very Short Introduction. 2nd revised ed. Oxford, UK: Oxford University Press

Exam topics and/or questions:

A list of the required professional competences, competence elements (knowledge, skills, etc.), based on point 7 (bachelor) or 8 (master) of the programme and outcome requirements, to which the course typically and substantially contributes:

a) Knowledge

- Interprets international, European, and regional political, legal, economic, and civilizational knowledge and events in relation to their field of expertise.
- Is aware of current research developments, analytical and interpretative methods in the social sciences.

b) Skills

- Capable of independently acquiring and organizing knowledge in historical, social, economic, legal, and political matters.
- Able to navigate academic literature in at least two foreign languages, with particular attention to professional terminology.
- Capable of project-based work, possesses cooperative skills based on division of labor, and recognizes individual contributions to collective success.
- Able to independently prepare written analyses and present completed tasks to a professional audience both orally and in writing.

c) Attitude

- Considers the possibility of approaching problems through diverse methodological perspectives.
- Develops a critical approach to analyzing and processing information.

d) Autonomy and responsibility

- Takes responsibility for professional texts written in both native and foreign languages, being aware of their potential consequences.
- Continuously develops writing skills related to professional tasks.

Notes (e.g. special device, student number limits): -

*Explanations