

Title and Code of Course: ERP-BAAA 0020 Church Studies

Instructor's Name: Attila János Borsi Dr.

Instructor's Email Address: borsi.attila@kre.hu

Credit Point Value: 6	Number of Lessons per Week: 2	Type of Course: Seminar ☐ Lecture ☒	Method of Evaluation: Oral Examination ☒ In-Class Presentation ☐ Other ☐
---------------------------------	---	--	--

Course Description:

The aim of the course is to give an overview of the history of Christian thinking. During the course those ideas and insights will be emphasized that stand in the centre of the Christian understanding of human reality. For this reason, the course will deal with the appearance of the first Christian community, the early Church and the Church of the Middle Ages. The course further aims for a detailed introduction to the ideas of the Pre-Reformation and Reformation up to the 20th century, especially focusing on the primary concerns of Protestantism, more closely on the heritage of the Swiss Reformation. The investigation of the church-state relationship from a Christian perspective is also one of the main objectives of the course. Similarly, the ecumenical outlook is part of the inquiry. For this purpose, students will engage in dealing with different sources of Christian thinking.

Bibliography:

LANE, Tony: The Lion Concise Book of Christian Thought. Lion Publishing, Oxford, 1996.

BARTH, Karl, Evangelical Theology. An Introduction. (Trans. Grover Foley), Holt, Rinehart and Winston, New York-Chicago-San Francisco, 1963.

BONHOEFFER, Dietrich, Life Together. Prayerbook of the Bible. in: Dietrich Bonhoeffer Works Vol 5. Ed. Geoffrey B. Kelly. Trans. Daniel W. Bloesch and James H. Burtness. Fortress Press, Minneapolis, 1996.

BONHOEFFER, Dietrich, Sanctorum Communio. A Theological Study of the Sociology of the Church. in: Dietrich Bonhoeffer Works Vol 1. Ed. Clifford J. Green. Trans. Reinhard Krauss and Nancy Lukens, Fortress Press, Minneapolis, 1998.

NIEBUHR, H. Richard, Christ and Culture. Harper Torchbooks. Harper & Row Publishers, New York, 1951.

VOLF, Miroslav, Flourishing. Why We Need Religion in a Globalized World. Yale University Press, New Haven, 2015.