

Title and Code of Course: ERPB-BPS1171 Social Psychology 1 - practice

Instructor's Name: Csaba Szummer, PhD

Instructor's Email Address: szummer.csaba@kre.hu

Credit Point Value: 6	Number of Lessons per Week: 2	Type of Course: Seminar <input type="checkbox"/> Lecture <input type="checkbox"/>	Method of Evaluation: Oral Examination <input type="checkbox"/> In-Class Presentation <input type="checkbox"/> Other <input type="checkbox"/>
---------------------------------	---	---	---

Course Description:

The course informs students about the perspective and some of the main topics of social psychology. As a practical course it focuses on what is studied by social psychologists, how these phenomena are conceptualized and explained. Our topics are:

- Social perception and social identity
- Social cognition (attribution, stereotyping, cognitive dissonance)
- Group, norms and conformity; blind obedience, the effect of the social role on the behavior
- Norms and behavior
- Love and romantic love
- Conflicts and conflict's resolution

Students have test exam (60%), active debates in-class (20%) and they also have credits for presentation (20%). Students have test exam (60%), active debates in-class (20%) and they also have credits for presentation (20%).

Bibliography:

- Social Psychology. Fourth edition.
By: Eliot R. Smith, Diane M. Mackie, Heather M. Claypoo. Publisher: Psychology Press;
4 edition (December 3, 2014)
- Zimbardo, Philip: The Lucifer Effect: Understanding How Good People Turn Evil,
Random House, New York, 2007
- Zimbardo, Philip: Man Disconnected: How technology has sabotaged what it means to be male? , Random House, New York, 2015